PUBLICATIONS & MORE

PRODIGY postgrad course 2022/23 **Call for applications**

PRODIGY is a scientific cooperation project between Germany, Brazil, Bolivia and Peru. The principal interest of the project is to understand whether a higher diversity within systems spanning from soil health to economic and social aspects enhances the social-ecological system's resilience.

The fact that we are dealing with three different countries, also makes the comparison of its (environmental) governance strategies so interesting. The project aims at describing the complex interdependencies by revealing the respective tipping points of the system's immanent functions and consequently their interactions and potential feedback mechanisms.

Course-Format

For our PRODIGY postgrad course, we are looking for approx. 50 participants from Universities in Germany and institutions and Universities in the MAP region as well as between social & natural scientists & practitioners, we welcome all genders.

Course Content

From October 2022 to March 2023, we offer 6 virtual modules on zoom; the overall workload of the course will be 180 hours, including working group work and preparatory time; participants receive 6 ETCS-points from University Landau/Germany and a comparable recognition if they come from the FAUTAPO or UFAC context.

DEADLINE: August 13th

We present: Transfer Center enaCom

As an intermediary, translator and catalyst between science and stakeholders outside the scientific community, focusing on making research results available for the benefits of society. enaCom is the central point of contact for all matters relating to University knowledge and technology transfer – for University of Bonn members and everyone else being interested to co-operate with them.

From the initial check to individual coaching, enaCom helps University members to turn ideas into successful start-ups.

Patents protect research results and facilitate commercialization. enaCom helps to identify, protect, market and commercialize inventions.

enaCom enables to collaborate successfully: science, together with business and society, we take responsibility for innovations.

enaCom helps to select and submit applications for public funding programs focused on different start-up or transfer projects.

enaCom is partner in different networks focusing on knowledge transfer to promote the exchange of science with all external stakeholders.

enaCom offers a variety of events on soft skills, professional skills and networking with transfer partners.
